THIS BOLD, BAD SQUAW, SAW CUSTER BRAINED

Running Deer is a survivor of the Custer massacre. She was the wife of brave killed in that fight and after the battle, for some reason, fled to the Crow reservation in Montana, leaving her tribe. A year ago she knifed two crows who had stolen a pony from her The squaw is said to be over 90 years old. She remembers the Custer fight well and when in good humor will tell how she saw the "Yellow Hair" pulled down and tomahawked

The discussion turned on the need of wagon roads in Alaska, Mr. Nelson say-ng that there was not a single wagon road in that territory and Mr. Teller asserting that if $500,000 could be spent in the building of such roads there would be a rich return in the increase of gold production.

Mr. Nelson predicted that within the next generation Alaska would have a population of a million. He grew zealous in his presentation of the production of precious metals, furs, etc., and his zeal was scarcely exceeded by the indignation be exhibited as he depicted the niggardliness of the Government in dealing with the Alaskans.

Not a D-d Thing.

At last, completely forgetting him-elf, he exclaimed: "All this they have done, Mr. President, and in return we have not done a d-d thing for them."

The statement was a surprise to all present, apparently as much to the speaker as to his audience. There sellom has been as spontaneous an outburst of laughter in the Senate as the exclamation provoked. Mr. Nelson joined in the merriment, with many vidences of embarrassment. His only apology was the remark that "some times adjectives came from the heart," and with that closed his speech. Further consideration of the confer-nce report was postponed and the fol-owing bills passed: Authorizing the further segregation f coal lands in Indian Territory, to correct a mistake in leases.

Interpreting the existing law relative o the exportation of lead ores, The Senate Committee on Commerce authorized a favorable report on the river and harbor appropriation bill. The bill as passed by the House was amended by increasing the limit of cost for a single channel or improvement from $50,000 to $100,000, and appropriat-ing $100,000 additional for new surveys,

DEMOCRATS OBJECT, BUT DEFICIENCY BILL PASSES

WASHINGTON, April House today passed the last of the supply bills of the Government, the general deficiency appropriation measure, after a stormy session which lasted till 8:15 in the evening. The contest was a party one over the deficiency appropriation for pensions, which the Democrats tried ineffectively to amend by incorporating as a law the recent executive age disability pension order.

An effort was made by Mr. Moon (Tenn.) to secure a yea and nay vote on his amendment to the age disability order, but the Speaker refused to rec-ognize him for this purpose. On a pro forma motion to recommit the bill, the Democrats, angered by the Speaker's refusal to recognize Mr. Moon, secured roll call, and after the vote had been aken all further opposition ceased and the bill was passed.

Mr. Hitt offered his Chinese exclusion bill, introduced Saturday, as an amendment to the general deficienc bill, and it was accepted without ob-

Messrs. Cushman and Jones (Rep. Massis. Cushman and Jones (Rep., Wash.) vigorously opposed a bill to ex-tend the privilege of immediate trans-portation of dutiable merchandise to various sub-ports in the customs collection district of Puget Sound, both of whom alleged that the people of the State of Washington had not asked for the proposed legislation. By a vote of 88 to 40, the rules were suspended and the bill passed.

Army Appropriations.

Mr. Hult presented the conference report on the army appropriation bill. The bill was criticised by Mr. Hay (Va.), because it contained legislation not enacted in either house of Congress. His remarks applied particularly to a provision appropriating $25,-000 for a survey and estimate of cost of a wagon road from Valdez to Fort Egbert or Eagle on the Yukon river, Alaska, and he made a point of order against it, which the Speaker over-ruled. On a rising vote the conference report was agreed to, 113 to 47.

The House today passed a bill pro-viding for the relief of growers of leaf tobacco. It repeals the internal revnue tax and all special taxes. Under suspension of the rules a bill was passed to recognize and promote the efficiency of army chaplains. It gives the grade of Major to a number of chaplains of long service.

A bill was passed under suspension of the rules providing for the establishment of a Supreme court for the Indian Territory and for additional United States judges therein. A long discussion was precipitated over a point of order against an amend-ment offered by Mr. Sullivan (Mass.) to refund to the State of Massachusetts $2,487,430 expenses incurred in raising volunteers during the Civil war, as

WASHINGTON, April 18.-The Sen-| Williams (Miss.) the chair was sustained, 117 to 77.

Chinese Exclusion Bill.

Mr. Hitt (Ill.) offered the strengthening the Chinese exclusion law as a rider to the general deficiency bill. Mr. Hitt said that the exigency required that the bill be presented at once, and by putting it on an appropriation he said there would be a certainty of action.

He admitted that he knew in January last of the contention that the treat of 1894 was no longer effective, but said he had not been able heretofore to prepare a proper bill. He declared it would be wise for Congress to take no chances in so important a matter. The Chinaman, he said, was in possession of a mighty organization which held him almost as a chattel, an organiza-tion employing able counsel to find every crevice in the exclusion law.

Mr. Williams sarcastically declared this amendment demonstrated how easy it was for the majority to do things. He congratulated the Repub-licans for having found that substan-tial legislation was a thing superior to technical rules. The bill was "a felon-lous assault, a lynching bee, directed against the rules of the House," but he said no Republican voice had suggest-ed that it was not in order. Directing his remarks at Mr. Hitt, Mr. Williams said he could not understand how a Republican House could sit idly by "while a gentleman who has hereto-fore been a lawabiding citizen raised the red flag of anarchy against its rules and offered a legislative amend-ment to an appropriation bill. He concluded by saying the amendment was good legislation.

Mr. Underwood (Ala.) thought the Committee on Foreign Affairs should have presented the amendment as a separate measure.

Messrs. Wynn. Bell and Livernash (Cal.) and Perkins (N. Y.) spoke in support of the amendment. It was agreed to unanimously. Deficiency Appropriation.

The committee then turned to the deficiency appropriation of $4,000,000 for pensions, embracing $1,500,000 to carry out the provisions of the President's recent order regarding age disability. Mr. Underwood (Dem., Ala.) offered an amendment reducing the total appropriation to $2,500,000, and Mr. Lavingston (Dem., Ga.) offered another providing that no part of the appropriation shall be paid any claimant for pension under the President's order. Another amendment by Mr. Myers (Dem., Ind.) increased the appropriation $5,000,000.

Another amendment was offered by Mr. Moon (Dem., Tenn.) providing that persons who served ninety days or morin the service of the United States dur-ing the Civil war shall, when they reach the age of 62 years, receive $6 a month, after 70 years $12 a month.

It developed that this last amendment was a sharp move by the Demo-crats. Mr. Hemenway made a point of order against it because he said it changed existing laws. Mr. Underwood promptly announced that it followed word for word the President's order, and inquired if the President was more entitled to violate existing laws than

Mr. Hemenway in defending the approprlation as provided by the bill said the Democrats had been wandering ound for ten months for one is coming campaign and they thought they had it now, but the Republicans would meet them. He inquired if there vas a man who served in the Civil war and who was now 62 years of age or over, who was capable of performing more than one-half a day's manual inbor. He charged that by the several amendments the Democrats were simply trying to play politics at the ex-pense of the old soldiers. Mr. Williams (Dem., Miss.) said the order was another illustration of execu-tive usurpation. He emphatically delared that the order was a change of existing law and insisted that the Co missioner of Pensions had committed an impeachable offense.

Not for Political Purposes.

Mr. Moon indignantly denied that h offered his amendment for political purposes. It was not, he said, the first time nor would it be the last, that he would protect the interests of the American soldier. His amendment, he explained, was offered solely that there may be no doubt of what the soldiers tre entitled to.

Mr. Moon said the President's order as illegal and unjustifiable, but, was illegal and unjustifiable, but, emanating from the law-making power, t would be wise and judicial.
The point of order against the Moon amendment was austained, amid deisive laughter from the Democratic

All amendments were rejected and An amendments were rejected and the bill was reported to the House. Mr. Moon was recognized for a parliamentary inquiry, but moved to recommit the bill with instructions to incorporate the executive order in the

"The gentleman was not recognized for that purpose," the Speaker inter-rupted with some irritation. In the meantime Mr. Payne (Rep., N. Y.) moved to recommit the bill.

The Speaker of the House cannot refuse to entertain the motion of gentleman from Tennessee," Mr. Williams broke in.

With some warmth the Speaker re-plied: "The Speaker did refuse."

Mr. Payne demanded the previous question. The absence of a quorum developed on the second roll call, whereupon Speaker Cannon, in order, as he frankly said, to gain time and to insure the attendance of absent members for whom clerks were scurrying, ordered the roll call read a third time regardless of the rule limiting the reading to twice. Finally the quorum was obtained, the motion to recommit was defeated and the bill was passed.

agreed upon a rule providing four and one-half hours' debate on the Statehood bill, which is to be the subject of onsideratioon Tuesday in the House. The House Committee on Indian Affairs authorized a favorable report on a substitute for the Lind resolution of inquiry as to the result of the investigation into Indian Territory matters. The substitute requests the Secretary of the Interior to Inform the House what against $1.511.740 provided by the bill. The point of order was sustained.

Promotion for Army Officers

Promotion for Army Officers.

WASHINGTON, April 18—A conference agreement was reached which disposes of differences on the army appropriation bill. The section proposing promotion of retired officers was amended to provide for an advance of one grade to all officers below the rank of Brigadler-General who have bad creditable service in the Civil war and retired on account of wounds or disease incident to service or on account of age or after forty years of service.

Objects to Financial Legislation.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Representative Bartlett of Georgia today filed minority views signed by himself, objecting to three of the provisions of Hill bill to "improve currency conditions." Mr. Bartlett believes there should be an amendment requiring national banks to pay interest on Government deposits, and he objects to recoining the silver dollars into subsidiary coin. He also objects to abolishing the limit on the retirement of national bank circulations. This limit, he believes, might be raised to $5,000,000 a month.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Secretary Taft has addressed a letter to Senator Prootor of the Senate Military committee urging the purchase of the four great camp sites at a cost of several milion dollars, which are to be used for joint maneuvers and drills by the regular army and the militia. BUCHANAN SCORES UNION BARNACLES

NEW YORK, April 18.-An official address by President Frank Buchanan of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, has been presented at meetings of the local unions. After discussing the arbitration agreement in effect here, the president says:

"I am hopeful that the members of New York, and be more watchful to see that the union dictates to the business agents instead of permitting a few individuals to dictate to the union. Cut out good fellowship and personal friendship and select men on their merits. "Our association should keep agreements inviolate. A fair agreement means a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. The men who are trying to use the union to hold their jobs when they are unable or unwilling to do a fair day's work in a workmanlike way are enemies to the principles that trades unionism is founded upon, and an orga-nization that will permit its strength to be used for such purposes will come to grief in the end."

CATHOLIC PRELATE IN PIUS FUND SUIT

WASHINGTON, April 18.-The Roman Catholic Archbishop of San Francisco, Most Rev. Patrick W. Riordan. and other parties to the suit, have submitted an answer to the bill in equity filed against them, the Secretary of State and the United States Treasurer in the District Supreme court by Nathaniel Wilson and John W. Phillips and Frederick D. McKenney, the two latter as administrators of the late Philip Philips. The complainants seek to have the court decree that they are entitled to receive a percentage of what is known as the Pius fund for legal services. The defendants, in their answer, allege that the claimants never performed or rendered any service looking to the recovery of the principal or corpus of the Pius fund, but on the contrary that of the payment of interest in 1878 they treated the employment upon which they seek to recover in the present bill of complaint as terminated and
